Viet Nam Troops Rout Religious Sect Forces

Rebels Trapped In Rice Paddies; Casualties Light

Many Of Retreating
Hoa Hao Surrender

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, June 5 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem hurled more than 30 army battalions today against the private forces of Gen. Tran Van Soai, a leader of the dissident Hoa Hao religious sect. By nightfall the rebels were hemmed into a triangle of watery ricepaddies with little hope of escape.

Casualties Light

Latest reports of casualties said the lightning operation cost the army 3 killed and the Hoa Hao 10.

Thousands of government troops swarmed across the broad Bassac in sampans, under the protection of Vietnamese naval units which only a few hours earlier had succeeded French naval forces at Can Tho. By noon the troops had cleared the highway leading east from Can Tho to Vin Long.

In midafternoon, other army striking forces occupied all the main routes linking Sadek, Long Xuyen, and Lai Vung. These towns all army bases, form an equilateral triangle of about 30 square miles of rice paddies within which Soai's forces appeared trapped.

Many Rebels Surrender

As dusk fell over the rich field from which Soai has been reaping huge profits in crops and transport taxes for years, the army's light infantry elements fanned into the rice fields. The troops ferreted out retreating Hoa Hao men, many of whom threw down their arms and surrendered.

Soai himself vanished from his headquarters with his young wife, Le Thi Gam. She is a Vietnamese amazon who heads a woman's army of some 500 mounted troops. It was only a month ago that Diem's forces smashed Binh Xuyen's private army of ex-mercenary pirates in bloody street fighting in Saigon. The Binh Xuyen forces were commanded by Gen. Le Van Vien.

Mindszenty Prosecutors "Liquidated"

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 5 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said today violent death has silenced those closely associated with the arrest and imprisonment of Cardinal Mindszenty and hence the world may never know the full story of that affair.

"Dead men tell no tales," he said, "and this was one tale the Communists wanted to hide forever." Brownell said cabinet ministers, secret police and others involved in the 1948 prosecution in Hungary have been "liquidated."

In an address prepared for Notre Dame University's commencement exercises the attorney general said Cardinal Mindszenty was tortured and thrown into an Iron Curtain dungeon after "a mockery of a trial" for treason.

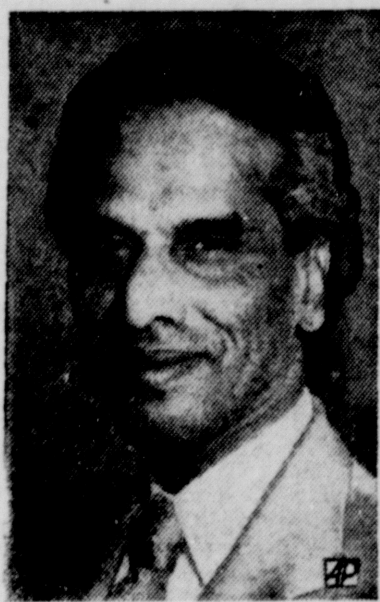

His real offense, Brownell said, involved "the horrible mistake of urging the people in a totalitarian state to vote for candidates who believed in justice, the dignity of man, and in freedom of religion."

SEEKS "TRUCE" — V. K. Krishna Menon (above), Indian diplomat whose tongue has won him a host of enemies in American official and private life, will arrive in the U.S. next Thursday with a flag of truce waving high. Indians in U.N. circles said yesterday that Krishna Menon wants no diplomatic storm signals flying when he tells President Eisenhower the impressions gained on his trip to Peiping last month.

'Foes Of People' Seized, Executed By Chinese Reds

HONG KONG, June 5 (AP)—A new Communist campaign against "counter revolutionaries" is sweeping Red China from Kwangtung Province in the south to Inner Mongolia in the north. This is reported by Communist China's own newspapers.

The newspapers reaching Hong Kong contain long and frequent accounts of arrests, public trials and executions of "enemies of the people and the state."

In Shansi Province, 41 members of a "riot conspirators' gang" were put to death recently. Apparently they were involved in unrest arising from food shortages.

14 Seized In One Town

Inner Mongolian newspapers reported that in one town authorities had ordered the arrest of 14 fugitives accused of counter revolutionary crimes. One account said: "Five kinds of counter revolutionary—bandits, secret agents, reactionary parties and cliques and chiefs of reactionary sects—are hiding somewhere locally without being brought to law."

"Murder, arson, poisoning, rumor mongering, sabotage and other acts undermining the social order are common occurrences and these persons engage themselves frantically in criminal activities ruining the nation and the people."

One man on the wanted list was described as the murderer of "56 Communist cadres and others."

Many Sentenced To Death

In March, courts in Canton sentenced 10 to death, 6 to life imprisonment, 11 to long terms and placed 3 under surveillance for "participating in secret meetings plotting armed revolt."

Thirty persons have been charged with establishing underground armed organizations in Kwangtung.

Espionage convictions have brought death sentences to 10 men and 15-year prison sentences to one in other Canton trials.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 5 (AP)—Otho G. Bell, an American prisoner of war who chose to remain behind the Iron Curtain, wants to come home.

His wife, Jewell Bell of Olympia, told of his decision today.

Eden Asks Railroad Workers End Strike

Prime Minister Says
Prosperity In Peril

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden warned tonight the nationwide railway strike is weakening Britain and leading to a "smashup of our hard-earned prosperity."

The Prime Minister appealed to the 67,000 striking engineers to end their "disastrous" week-old walkout and resume negotiations to settle the dispute over wage differentials — "The quicker the better."

He said the government is "ready at any time to help in trying to find a way in which the talks can be reopened" once the strikers return to work.

10-Minute Radio Talk

He made his personal appeal in a 10-minute fireside radio talk from his country home, Chequers. It was the Prime Minister's second such broadcast since the strike began.

He spoke as South Wales miners, led by a Communist, threatened to boycott the trucking of coal, a means by which the government hopes to move fuel to factories.

There was fear, too, that the railway strike might spread to London's suburbs.

Eden gave an up-to-the-minute summary of the strike situation: 1. More than 7,000 trains are running each day, but this is only about one-sixth the number operating on a normal day.

Essential Services Kept Up

2. Only "essential traffic" has been kept moving by using alternative road, air and canal transport.

3. Essential supplies and services are being kept up. Food and milk and mails have been delivered. Power supplies have been maintained.

A dock strike, damming vital exports, has added to current labor troubles and Eden drew a gloomy picture of the consequences for Britain should the strikes drag on.

Graham Opens French Crusade

PARIS, France, June 5 (AP)—Billy Graham, launching his back-to-the-Bible campaign on the European continent, jammed a sports arena with 8,500 Parisians tonight and won 623 "decisions for Christ."

Hundreds of men, women and children lined up at the entrances to Velodrome d'Hiver, the French capital's Madison Square Garden, two hours before the meeting began. Some found only standing room inside.

It was the American Baptist preacher's first campaign in a predominantly Catholic country.

Graham declared the opening meeting of his five-day crusade here went "beyond all our expectations."

The North Carolina minister varied his technique in only one major respect from that which he has used in the United States and Britain.

He broke his message at the end of each phrase or sentence while a French minister translated his words.

na so cannot help her husband while he remains there.

But, Mrs. Knight added, if Bell can travel to Hong Kong or any other place where the United States has representatives, the State Department will issue documents for his return and render all other appropriate assistance.

Little Expected From Big 4 Talks By Congressmen

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Three Congress members, two Republicans and a Democrat, cautioned Americans today not to expect much — if any — easing of world tension in the proposed Big Four conference.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said "it is difficult to believe much good can come out" of the meeting of the heads of state, which may begin July 18 at Geneva.

The only reason the Russians agreed to the meeting, Martin said, was because of fear of "our strength and their own weakness."

Sounding Board For U.S.

Rep. Feighan (D-Ohio) said "we must regard such a conference as nothing more than an opportunity for us to spell out to the entire world what we stand for and what we stand against."

Feighan urged President Eisenhower to demand at the conference that the Russians "agree to dismantling and completely removing the Iron Curtain which they have constructed from the Baltic Sea to the Pacific Ocean."

He said the Russians should be required to hold free elections in all the Soviet-orbit satellite countries.

Bush Hopeful But Cautious

Sen. Bush (R-Conn.) cautioned against over-optimism. "We hope, we pray that from these negotiations may come decisions which will put the world on the path toward permanent peace," he said.

"But we must never relax our guard."

Martin's remarks were prepared for commencement exercises at Stonehill College, North Easton, Mass.; Feighan's for ROTC commissioning ceremonies at New London, Conn., commemorating the 200th anniversary of the birth of Nathan Hale.

Hotel Chain Has Own TV Network

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Sheraton Corp. of America, the nation's second largest hotel chain, today announced inauguration of its own coast-to-coast closed circuit television network.

Designed primarily for the conduct of business, sales and special purpose meetings by companies with regional or national units, the network has an entertainment potential which, according to Page Browne, vice president, Sheraton will seek to exploit.

The system was created for the 30 hotels in the Sheraton chain in this country and Canada. It can be expanded, however, to any 100 cities among the 250 currently linked by AT&T facilities.

Egypt, Israeli Forces Clash In Gaza Strip

CAIRO, Egypt, June 5 (AP)—Egypt renewed her proposal for a demilitarized zone along the Israeli demarcation line today as a fresh outbreak of shooting between Egyptian and Israeli forces was reported in the tense Gaza Strip.

The Egyptian war office said six Israeli armored cars and trucks approached the demarcation line and opened fire on two Egyptian outposts.

A U.N. observer called to the scene in an effort to stop the shooting was forced to take cover to escape Israeli bullets, a war office spokesman said.

No casualties were reported on the Egyptian side in a three-hour exchange of fire. (An Israeli army spokesman in Jerusalem said there were no Israeli casualties. He said the Egyptians opened fire.)

China Reds Claim Plane

TOKYO, June 5 (AP)—Peiping radio said Red Chinese anti-aircraft guns today shot down one of four Nationalist propeller fighter planes which raided the Swatow area opposite Formosa.

Ho Ho And Away We Go

Mrs. Tom (Grandma Walker) Court and her donkey, Uranium, enjoy a joke before leaving Kennewick, Wash., to walk 150 miles back to their home in Spokane. Mrs. Court also has her German shepherd dog, Buck, along to enjoy the journey, which she expects to last eight or 10 days. Object? Just enjoying the scenery, says Grandma, who plans other trips if Uranium proves hardy enough to stand the hiking.

Idaho Mother, 33, Is Sixth Fatality In Polio Outbreak

BOISE, Idaho, June 5 (AP)—A young mother whose children had been vaccinated with Salk vaccine made by the Cutter Laboratories died today of bulbar polio.

Her death was the sixth fatality in the current outbreak of the disease which has stricken 78 persons in Idaho. She was the 38th person in this state to contract the disease after close association with vaccinated children.

Meanwhile, a Utah scientist agreed with Cutter Laboratories that his finding of "probably a very, very small quantity of live virus" in one lot of vaccine called for further examination by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Evidence Of Safety Test Need

Dr. Louis P. Gebhardt, research specialist at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City, also agreed with a laboratory statement that if his finding is confirmed, "it will be evidence of the need for the new more stringent safety tests established last week by the service."

The Berkeley, Calif., vaccine maker's statement last night said every lot of Cutter vaccine had passed the government safety test then required before it was released.

In Washington today, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele said on a TV-radio interview (NBC's Meet The Press) that he was still waiting for a "full report" on the Cutter vaccine before making any statement on it.

Woman Ill One Day, Dies

The woman who died today was Mrs. Annabelle Nelson, 33, whose two children were vaccinated last April with Cutter vaccine.

State Health Director L. J. Peterson reported she died at Montpelier Hospital after an illness of one day. She was the third person to die of a close-association case of polio. The other three deaths were among 19 youngsters who developed polio after receiving injections.

Most of the Idaho cases developed after the mass polio vaccination program was halted April 27.

Three Released Fliers Leave For Home Today

HONOLULU, June 5 (AP)—Three of four U. S. jet pilots released by Red China last week will leave for home with their families aboard a special Air Force plane tomorrow afternoon.

They are Capt. Harold Fischer, Swea City, Iowa; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland Parks, Omaha.

The fourth, Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnwood, Pa., and his wife will remain for another 10 or 12 days. Heller will take physiotherapy treatment for his leg, injured when he bailed out of his plane in North Korea.

Ike, Mamie Join In Christmas Carols

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower joined the chorus as Christmas carols rang from their church today on this warm June Sunday.

The choir and the congregation — full voiced and booming — sang "Hark the Herald Angels" and "O Come All Ye Faithful."

The Rev. Edward L. R. Olson, minister of the National Presbyterian Church, explained the singing was being put on a record to be released commercially.

3 Die In Crash Near Philippi

PHILIPPI, W. Va., June 5 (AP)—A two-car crash on U.S. 119-250 two miles north of Philippi early today killed three young people and critically injured three others.

The dead: Charlene May Grow, 19, recently returned to her home here after completing her freshman year at West Virginia University.

Robert Carl Criss, 20, son of Harry Lee Criss of Pittsburgh.

Wanda L. Mayle, 21, of near Philippi.

Miss Grow and Criss, who was born and reared here, were northbound on the main highway in his car at the time of the crash, about 12:15 a.m. It was at a curve where a county road intersects the main highway.

State Trooper Glen Burner said he had been unable to reconstruct exactly what happened but the evidence indicated one car was on the wrong side of the road.

He said he could not determine if one came out of the sideroad. The two vehicles crashed almost head-on and both were demolished.

Miss Grow was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Grow of Philippi. Her father is an official at a coal mine.

Ike Returns To West Point For Reunion And Address

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower returned today to his alma mater, the U. S. Military Academy, for a reunion with his classmates of 40 years ago. He also will make the commencement address to this year's graduates.

Smiling happily, the President stepped from his private plane, the Columbine, at nearby Stewart Air Force Base after a fast flight from Washington. He was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower. They motored the 17 miles to West Point.

A couple of hours after his arrival, Eisenhower and some of the members of his class of 1915 started a crowded program of activity.

They went to the Plains, the academy's historic parade ground, to witness a colorful retreat re-

Aid On Narrowed Basis Is Advised By Hoover Group

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Hoover Commission told Congress today that the U. S. foreign aid program "despite many mistakes and waste, should be continued" — but on a narrowed and reorganized basis.

Seven of the 12 commission members attached a separate statement that called for "immediate substantial reductions," an evident plea for cuts in President Eisenhower's 3½ billion dollar aid program now before Congress.

The main report, entitled "Overseas Economic Operations," declared that no more economic or technical aid should go to the European countries who were charter members of NATO — the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

And, it said, no manufacturing or large industrial development should be projected for the "Asian-African arc, with the possible exception of Japan."

The original NATO nations have received about 50 billion dollars from this country since World War II.

The commission under the chairmanship of former President Herbert Hoover, was set up by Congress to look for ways to save money and to recommend government reorganization where necessary.

The commission endorsed Eisenhower's plan to liquidate the Foreign Operations Administration June 30 and to shift its central function to an International Cooperation (ICA) in the State Department.

However, it assigned to the new ICA a smaller sphere than Eisenhower had suggested. It proposed that 11 of FOA's operating duties be handed over to other existing agencies.

It returned again, she said, and parked further down the road. As she passed the car, she said, a Negro jumped from it, seized her and dragged her into nearby woods where she was raped and cut on the neck.

She broke loose and staggered through a field to her home nearby. Police began a search almost immediately.

Jackson, 21-year-old resident of Monks, was arrested at White Hall, about 10 miles from the scene of the attack, police said. He was working on the motor of his car.

No Reunion Problem

BROOKLIN, Maine, June 5 (AP)—Class reunions won't be any problem for Betty A. Pervear after the per, 17-year-old graduates from this coastal community's tiny high school this week.

She's the entire senior class. As such, she will deliver the class oration, introduce the speaker and receive the only diploma awarded during full-scale commencement exercises.

Agreement On New Contract Believed Near

Picket Lines Appear
But Company, Union
Continue Sessions

DETROIT, June 6 (Monday) (AP)—A strike began early today at some Ford Motor Co. plants as company and CIO United Auto Workers negotiators reportedly were nearing agreement on a historic new contract.

First picket lines in the walkout were thrown around Ford plants at Cleveland and Buffalo, N.Y.

Ford officials reported other pickets stationed around the Ford jet engine plant at Chicago.

Ford, which already had agreed to a guaranteed wage plan and other contract improvements, although not to extent wanted by the UAW, was locked in a tense showdown bargaining session with Union President Walter P. Reuther.

Meanwhile, separate union negotiations with General Motors Corp., recessed for the night just before midnight until 12:30 p.m. tomorrow.

GM Talks Recessed

The intensity of the Ford bargaining sessions, continuing right on after the GM talks recessed, indicated the parties were getting closer on a new contract.

Vagueness of the UAW's precise hour for a strike led to advance walkouts.

Negotiators remained silent on what was going on. It was generally felt the Ford phase of the talks had advanced more rapidly than GM's, probably due to the imminent strike threat at Ford.

The deadline for any GM strike is midnight Tuesday.

A strike among Ford's 140,000 workers would be the first company-wide walkout there since 1941.

There was confusion about the actual time for a Ford walkout. UAW President Walter Reuther had told reporters it would occur at midnight if there was no settlement.

Noon Mass Meeting

However, Carl Stellato, president of Local 600, representing nearly 50,000 at the huge Rouge plant at nearby Dearborn, told reporters there would be no strike at that plant until after a mass meeting at noon today.

As the midnight hour approached, the possibility rose that the talks might go right on, perhaps all night, in a final drive for a peace pact. Walkouts by some workers were expected in this event, but they would involve only skeleton night shifts of a relatively few workers.

Reuther called the Ford situation a "stalemate" and both he and John S. Bugas, Ford vice president for industrial relations, said a strike appeared inevitable without some major concessions.

Bugas said Ford was making all necessary strike preparations.

Farmhand Held In Rape Of Girl, 12

TOWSON, Md., June 5 (AP)—Farmhand Robert Jackson, owner of a yellow convertible car, was in jail today charged with raping and knifing a 12-year-old girl.

The condition of the child apparently was not serious. She was released from Union Memorial Hospital last night to be taken to the Towson police station where she viewed a police lineup.

The youngster was attacked yesterday shortly after noon near Loch Raven Reservoir. She told police a yellow convertible passed her while she was riding her bicycle on Dulany Valley Road, turned and passed her going the other way.

It returned again, she said, and parked further down the road. As she passed the car, she said, a Negro jumped from it, seized her and dragged her into nearby woods where she was raped and cut on the neck.

She broke loose and staggered through a field to her home nearby. Police began a search almost immediately.

Jackson, 21-year-old resident of Monks, was arrested at White Hall, about 10 miles from the scene of the attack, police said. He was working on the motor of his car.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

Howdy, youngsters! Guess you, like all good scouts, know all about Davy Crockett. Sure, you do—but now I'd like to tell you about some of Davy's friends, like Jim Bowie. That's him, up there at the right, showing his famous knife, named after him, to Davy.

Jim Bowie, who was such a real partner of Davy's he stuck with him right to the finish at the Alamo, was born a long time ago, even before your daddy's granddaddy—back in 1796, I think it was, in Kentucky. Born in a log cabin, as is fitting a real pioneer.

When Little Jim was only three years old, his folks—real true blue pioneers they were, yes sir—moved to Louisiana, going by flat boat on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers most of the way, as folks with families had to do those days. Indian trails were too dangerous.

Little Jim had two older brothers but for daring they couldn't match him. No sir! He was a natural born leader—his hair being fiery red, so I guess that figures. And there wasn't a scared bone in Jim's whole body! Wish you could have seen him climbing trees!

NEXT—Jim Bowie lassos deer, rides alligators.

Correct weight is a three-way proposition. Charts based on height alone don't tell you enough.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Perhaps your figure isn't as good as it should be—because you've always had the wrong idea about your correct weight.

The usual weight chart is based on averages. So many women at a certain height weighed so much—and the average of these weights is recorded as correct for everyone at the same height. A doctor is the first to tell you that this may not be true in your case. Perhaps you have weighed in at his office and remarked on the difference between what the scale says and what you think it should say, only to have him disagree. This is because he knows your individual makeup and makes allowances for it.

The best weight for you depends on more than your height. Your bone structure and your age are quite as definite factors. Because the correct weight for the indi-dual, not just for anyone, is so important to so many parts of the Powers program, we have worked out a sure-fire and easy method of calculation. It's outlined in my booklet, "How Much Should You Weigh?" to make this same vital self-evaluation possible for you, address me, care this newspaper, enclosing 10c (in coin) and stamp, self-addressed envelope.

Top Md. Democrats Urge County Victory In '58

Top Maryland Democrats who spoke at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Saturday night at the Fort Cumberland Hotel urged Allegany County Democrats to put forth a concerted effort to win the 1958 elections.

C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general, and Millard G. Tawes, comptroller of the treasury, both commented on the fine showing for an off-year dinner.

Sybert declared that the victory which Allegany County gave Truman in 1948 is still the talk of Maryland.

Pointing to spirit shown in recent elections in this county, and citing the slim margin by which Gov. McKeldin beat Dr. H. C. Byrd last fall, Sybert said the spirit will "permeate and permeate other counties of Maryland."

Sybert also spoke of his "bouncing" ride over U. S. Route 40 and cited what he called the unkept promises of Republican legislators.

The only way to get the roads fixed in Western Maryland is to send Democrats to the General Assembly, Sybert exclaimed.

Tawes declared that the showing at the dinner was a "good omen for what's to come." He compared Cumberland's enthusiastic attendance with the 600 who attended a Democratic rally in Salisbury with Sen. John Sparkman as the speaker.

He said the Democratic party should hold its head in shame if Maryland has to "endure" another four years of Republican control when the 1958 election results are counted.

Sybert was introduced by David Kauffman, local attorney, who is an assistant attorney general. He referred to Sybert as a lawyer's lawyer.

Sybert also commented that he has had, on occasion, to rely on the opinions former attorney general William C. Walsh made when he was attorney general.

Walsh introduced the main speaker, Congressman Jim Wright of Weatherford, Texas. Wright spoke on election conditions in his home state, which is predominantly Democratic.

Walsh, in introducing Rep. Wright, remarked that the county, which has a 5,000 Republican majority, has from time to time supported state Democratic candidates, but falls down on the local Democratic candidates. He said he would like to see Democrats sweep the county elections three years from now.

Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee, was toastmaster.

He introduced Edward J. Ryan, Democratic candidate for U. S. House of Representatives last fall; William Wilson Jr., Democratic candidate for State Senate; Paul Byrne, president of the Georges Creek Democratic Club; and William Treacy, Oakland Democratic lawyer who lost the election for Garrett County attorney general by one vote last year.

Over 200 persons attended the dinner and rally in the hotel ballroom.

X-Ray Unit At Celanese Plant In County Visit

There were 1,714 persons X-rayed last week at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation during the first week of operations by the mobile unit which will be in Allegany County the remainder of the month.

Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary of the Allegany-Garrett County Tuberculosis Association, said the unit will again be at the industrial plant today and Tuesday, after which it will be located in various communities for the remainder of the month.

Last year, Miss Reinhard noted, 9,826 residents of Allegany County availed themselves of the opportunity for the free service which is sponsored by the two-county association. Assisting in the X-ray survey, she continued, are members of the County Lay Health Council.

Following the completion of the visit to the Amcelle plant, the unit will be located on North Centre Street, near Baltimore, for the convenience of shoppers.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the unit will be in operation from noon to 6 p. m., and on Friday, from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. The unit will also be located downtown next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; on the first day from noon to 6 p. m., and on the other two days from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Clergy Named For Military Field Mass

Officiating clergy for the military field mass which will be celebrated next Sunday for the deceased members of the armed forces from Western Maryland have been announced by George F. Garlitz, president of the Men of St. Mary's Catholic Church, the sponsoring organization.

Celebrant of the solemn high ceremony, which will be held at Maryland, the parish grounds on Oldtown Road, will be Rev. Jude Senieur OFM, Cap., guardian of SS. Peter and Paul Monastery. The deacon will be Rev. Francis E. Montgomery, administrator of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg, and the sub-deacon, Rev. John U. Lyness, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church here.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Robert F. Hopkins, assistant pastor of the host church. Many other clergy of the area will be in attendance, Garlitz said.

Father Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's, will deliver a commentary and description of the mass, which will begin at noon, over a local radio station.

Garlitz said the Arion Band of Frostburg will present an hour-long program of musical selections prior to the start of the mass, and that plans call for the assembled military and church organizations to march onto the area of the field mass at 11:30 a. m.

Since the mass is being offered for all area war dead, regardless of creed, Garlitz said families or organizations are invited to mail the names of the deceased to St. Mary's rectory, Oldtown Road, in order that they may be placed on the altar during the mass.

Bishop Powell has ordered the office for the burial of the dead and the requiem celebration of Holy Communion to be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at St. John's Church. The bishop will be assisted by Rev. Charles I. Kratz Jr., rector of St. John's, and Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. George's Church, Mt. Savage.

A memorial fund is being established for Father Browne, according to Rev. Mr. Kratz, and it is requested that flowers be omitted. Those who wish may send contributions to the Browne Memorial Fund, care of St. John's Episcopal Church, Frostburg.

The body is at the Durst Funeral Home where the body may be viewed today.

Rev. Mr. Browne was born in Baltimore, Aug. 24, 1867, a son of the late Lewis B. Browne and Augusta J. (Bayles) Browne. He was ordained as a deacon in November, 1888, and ordained a priest in December, 1892, by the late Bishop Pare.

While serving as deacon in charge of St. James Church, Westernport, he married Eva Poumairat. Upon his advancement to the priesthood, he continued as rector of St. James until 1897, when he accepted a call to become rector of St. Mathews, Sparrows Point.

Father Browne served at St. Mathew's until 1909 when he became rector of St. Andrew's in the Hamilton section of Baltimore, and at the same time served the newly-formed congregation of St. Matthias' at Raspeburg, Baltimore County.

He left Baltimore County in 1910 to serve for two years as rector of St. Stephen's, Thurmont, and St. Ann's Smithsburg. Father Browne died Tuesday.

Voices Across The Sea By Telephone Cable

A telephone cable destined to become an important part of the history of the communications industry is now being produced by a London company, Submarine Cables Ltd. When completed, this 2,250-mile long wire will be the first transoceanic telephone cable.

In a unique 18-month cable-laying operation, the British telegraph ship, Monarch, will feed into the North Atlantic the shiny black strand, stretching from Oban, Scotland, to Clarendville, Newfoundland.

Since 1866, when the first successful telegraph cable spanned the Atlantic, people have dreamed of the day when their voices would no longer be separated by the large expanse of water. By Christmas 1956 this dream is to become a reality.

Composed of 16,900 tons of copper, steel wire, jute yarn and polythene (a plastic insulation material), and 2.4 million yards of cotton cloth, the cable will cost an estimated $35 million. Half of the cost will be borne by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the remainder will be split between Canadian companies and Great Britain.

Thirty-five telephone calls or 19 telegraph messages will be handled simultaneously by the new cable, which will actually be laid in two parallel send-and-receive sections. The cost from New York will be $12 for three minutes during the daytime and $9 during nights and Sundays.

True to scientific tradition, electronics experts are contemplating further uses of similar cables. Continent to continent television may become a reality as a result of information gained from operation of the new cable.

The Cost Of Elections

When an election costs too much, it gives the appearance, if not the substance, of being bought. The British are aware of this and have laid down ground rules that are rigidly adhered to but which cannot be employed in this country because of the variety of offices which Americans are called upon to vote for. All British candidates run for the same office, member of Parliament. There are no nationwide or statewide candidates.

The costs of elections are higher here, but they need not be so high as to invalidate the principle of freedom of choice. No one can even estimate the cost of an American general election. The figures that are reported are a small fraction of the expenditures. Not only is cash passed "under the table," as the expression goes, but numerous non-reporting committees, foundations and educational divisions of labor unions expend money for political purposes.

The Fund for the Republic, for instance, to which the Ford Foundation gave $15,000,000 and is now denying its offspring, has become engaged in political operations. But it is not the only sinner, in the sense that tax-free money is used for purposes that are termed educational while actually they are all designed to affect votes and influence political action.

Philip L. Graham, publisher of The Washington Post and Times Herald, in a speech in Chicago recently called attention to conditions which deprive politicians of self-respect. He said:

"... we maintain an official lie about political expenditures. We do this by having a federal law which limits expenditures by a candidate for Congress to a maximum of $5,000, by a candidate for the Senate to $25,000, and by a national political committee to $3,000,000. Now a senator, even in a small state, cannot run for $25,000 and in a state like Illinois he cannot run for $250,000. But the law remains on the books, the myth is maintained by a series of long-practiced manipulations and evasions, and so we force the able man entering politics to launch his career with an initial act of blatant hypocrisy. And to endure this indignity every time he runs again."

It is estimated that the 1952 presidential campaign cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. The exact figure will never be known. The official reports showed $17,500,000. The high cost of television is going to raise the true 1956 figure above that of 1952.

A candidate may with the best of intentions enter upon a campaign, hoping to avoid expenditures which amount to many times his salary for his entire term. He may have a Messianic emotion about himself, his first great commitment is in office, he can change the world. His first great promise is that to win he has to spend money and his managers will get the money where they can and in whatever form the donor is willing to give it.

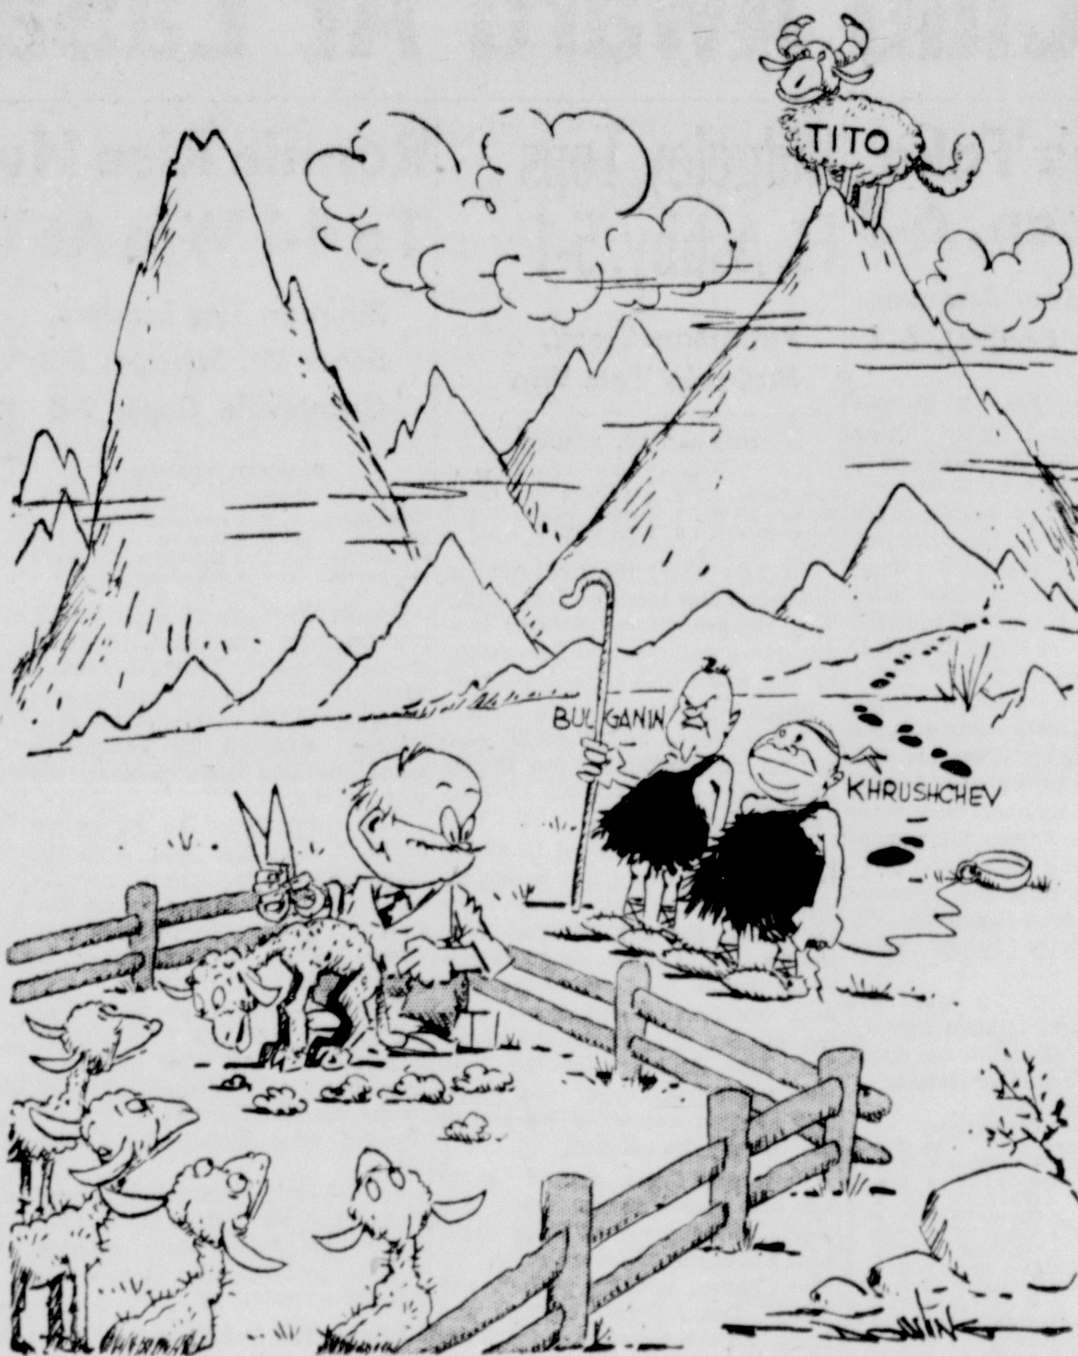

A congressional committee, headed by Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr., of Missouri, is at work on this problem. It would seem that there has always been such a committee. Graham suggested that one solution could be if large numbers of citizens made small contributions. This is a moral solution designed to make the election honest by removing the necessity for going to racketeers or special interests for money.

In addition, campaigns should be of short duration. With the advantage of radio and television, three weeks ought to be ample. Maybe the candidates would be more serious about their speeches if they made fewer of them. All collateral organizations, committees, etc., should be required to report every detail of expenditure, and the punishment for failure to report ought to be very severe. It ought to be law that every dollar spent for whatever purpose by any one or any group during the campaign be reported, with a felony penalty for failure to report, with no mitigating circumstances accepted.

Unless something is done about our elections, they will cease altogether to represent the choice of the people. They will be bought elections, the office going to him who can spend the most money on radio and television. Already candidates go to instructors who teach them how to act on television which is a silly thing to do. We do not elect television actors; we elect men whom we expect to be competent administrators and legislators.

"Well, How Did You Do?"

An Open Letter About A Chinese Ordered Deported

WASHINGTON

Dear General Joseph M. Swing:

As commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization you are of course a very important person nowadays—no less, in fact, than the keeper of the keys of the gates of the United States, with some help, naturally, from that fine, vigilant, active man, Mr. Scott McLeod, over at the State Department.

None the less, I dare to address you on behalf of a Chinese friend, Mr. Lung Shun-wen, because I think just possibly you did not really understand his case when you ordered him deported from this country. The reason you gave for not letting Mr. Lung stay in America was the position now held by his father, old Governor Lung Yun, as a vice chairman of the National Military Council of the Chinese Communist government.

Mr. Lung's father's position sounds bad, of course, but somehow it still seems wrong to me to put automatic labels on human beings and decide their fate by the punch card system. So let me tell you a little bit about Governor Lung and the Lung clan. I used to know them rather well when I was working for General Chennault in the 14th Air Force. In those days, old Governor Lung was the last astonishing survivor of the true race of Chinese warlords.

Basically A Primitive
The first thing you have to grasp about Governor Lung, if you really want to understand him, is that he was basically a primitive. I must admit that he had every modern gadget his vast fortune could buy in his big palace in Kunming; and he had bought modern weapons, too, for his private army of 70,000 men.

Yet his gadgets didn't make him any less primitive at heart. He always used to deny having tribal blood, because that is a disgrace in China. But I rather think there was truth in the Kunming gossip that Governor Lung was part Lolo. As late as the middle 1930s, the Lolo chieftains were really independent rulers in their mountain fortresses in Southwest China, and the lesser hill tribes were their slaves. The Lolos were particularly strong in Yunnan, and I suspect his Lolo connections helped Lung Yun to rise to the Yunnan warlordship.

Anyway, when I knew Governor Lung he was one of the last truly feudal rulers in the modern world. He let Mr. Y. T. Miao, a brilliant, Western educated banker, handle problems that needed Western education. But he ran the province, with his cousin, General Lu Han, as his deputy. He was really absolute, except that General Lu Han's mother, Madam Lu, who must have been about 80, exercised something of the authority of a family elder. When she stamped her bound feet, even Governor Lung used to jump.

Naturally, as warlord of Yunnan, Governor Lung made a lot of money. In his best days, he must have owned a substantial percentage of the good farm land in the province. And in 1945, when Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek finally sent his troops in to break Governor Lung's power, one of the things they found was a sort of private Fort Knox—a whole cave out in the western hills heaped to the ceiling with stacks of gold bricks.

No Need To Worry

Of course, that was really the end of Governor Lung's life, when his hold on Yunnan was broken. The generalissimo put him under house arrest in Nanking. Then he escaped to Hong Kong on one of General Chennault's airplanes—he got on the plane disguised as an old woman. And then the Communists defeated the generalissimo, and made Lung Yun a lot of promises, and so he went back to China to become one of their puppets.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

General Gruenther told 600 mayors not to scrap the atom bomb. How did those guys get it?

If Gruenther is also speaking for the rest of us we string along with him until he's let his kite out.

He's as correct as butter on corn when he says NATO is stacked on the alphabetical blister.

Without the H-bomb in its hop chest NATO would be up Salt Creek with muckilage in its egg-beater.

That's as true as Longfellow sweethearts in the last verse of Evangeline.

We nod with Gruenther because sooner or quicker somebody is going to tap you. And when you turn over your hole card it had better be an ace. Or an IOU.

The jet-safari from Japan to Australia proves we can use parallels for skipping ropes.

That task force of 600 mayors could go places and veto things. It represents a cross-town section of America at a dignified level.

But we don't want the gallant 600 using the fissionated grenade during the next campaign. The government already has a luxurious play-pen at Yucca Flats. With non-partisan dumplings.

Until Gruenther finger-waved the 600 mayors at the chin level we never suspected there was talk of scrapping the H-bomb.

Psychiatrist Finds Love Emotion Of Primary Concern

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Love is of interest to everyone but, from the medical point of view, is of primary concern to the psychiatrist. Lack or loss of this powerful emotion is the cause of much unhappiness, frustration, depression, loneliness, anguish, and disappointment. Recently an entire article on the true meaning of love appeared in the New England

Journal of Medicine, written by Dr. Philip Solomon.

While there are many forms of love, they all have a common origin. The earliest is self-love, a primitive instinct of self-preservation. It is evident in the newborn and remains throughout life in most of us to a greater or lesser degree. Psychiatric disturbances often are traceable to its persistence in an exaggerated form.

The toddler and primary grader is enmeshed in mother, father, sister, and brother love. The adolescent is affected differently. He wants to make good but tends to hitch his wagon to a star. More often than not, he falls short of his goal which makes him discontented, restless, or depressed.

How is the problem solved? Some find solace in television, radio, books, or magazines. They visualize themselves as the hero or heroine and get temporary relief from the identification. Others choose a living idol such as a big league home run king, a movie actress, or a five star general.

Sooner or later a third substitute enters the picture — a boy or a girl friend. Dr. Solomon explains that the girl provides the solution for the boy by regarding him as "the very same hero he has been wishing he were." The boy does the same for the girl, if the affair is reciprocal.

Certain conditions are necessary, however, for romantic love. There must be a discrepancy between the actual self and the ideal self, and the need for this type of love becomes greater when this difference is marked. In other words, when a mediocre lad finds a girl who thinks he is a dreamboat, the lift to his ego makes

Reds Want Economic Blockade Ended In Return For Formosan Cease-Fire

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Prime Minister Nehru of India has given the State Department some unwelcome news regarding the proposed cease-fire around Formosa. As a result of Krishna Menon's many talks in Peiping, Nehru has told the State Department that Red China will insist on the end of the economic blockade of China as its price for a cease-fire.

The blockade was imposed toward the beginning of the Korean War and has been maintained ever since. Though violated to some extent by Western nations, nevertheless it has been effective enough to hamper the entire economy of China seriously, and Premier Chou En-Lai demands that it be lifted.

In fact, Nehru made it clear that this was one of the strongest conditions Chou had laid down in his latest secret talk with Krishna Menon.

Chou bitterly denounced the Western ban on strategic shipments and said Red China would never agree to any truce unless the West formally pledged that every country would resume its trade.

Follow-The-Leader

Howard Chernoff, radio-TV adviser to Senator Kilgore of West Virginia, was waiting to see Pat Weaver, president of the National Broadcasting Company, whose New York office adjoins that of David Sarnoff, chairman of the Radio Corporation of America and top mogul for NBC.

Sarnoff, who seemed to have less to do than Weaver, and perhaps more curiosity, called Chernoff in.

"Why don't you get Senator Kilgore to have lunch with the radio-TV industry?" he suggested.

"Would you come?" inquired Chernoff.

"That would depend on what Paley would do," replied the head of the giant radio corporation, referring to William S. Paley, chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System. "If Paley sent Stanton (president of CBS) I'd send Weaver. If Paley came himself, I'd come too."

Senate Salies

Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, riding backward on the Senate trolley, remarked cheerfully to a tourist beside him: "We're going forward while looking back." Indiana's pudgy Sen. Homer Capehart, the juke-box king, was railing on the Senate floor against installment buying. His GOP colleague, Sen. "Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota, jumped up to agree. "I think," suggested Langer, "we ought to start with the Capehart music boxes."

Virginia's rosy-faced Sen. Willis Robertson, trying to explain a hopelessly complicated amendment to the Senate, finally blurted: "Don't listen to the language of my amendment. Just listen to what I tell you it means."

Colleagues are ribbing Sen. Storm Thurmond, South Carolina Dixiecrat, for taking up a full page of the Congressional Directory for his Biography. Wisecracked Kentucky's Sen. Alben Barkley: "We should have invoked cloture (the anti-filibuster rule)."

Adenauer To Rule

Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany has demanded he be included in the Western Big Three Foreign Ministers conference being arranged for New York June 16.

This is the meeting which is to fix the strategy the Western heads of government will follow at the Big Four meeting with Soviet Premier Bulganin in July. And because the future of Germany will be the main problem, Adenauer will probably have his way and be invited to join the New York conference.

However, it isn't likely Adenauer will be invited to sit in "at the summit" later.

Siamese Political Twins

The Prime minister of Thailand, young-looking veteran of Far Eastern political vicissitudes, made a great hit in the United States. Flying on a hectic schedule around the nation, he stopped after a visit at Niagara Falls to dine with Gov. Averell Harriman in Albany.

The plane trip was rough and the time short. But the prime minister and his entourage had changed ed clothes and were dressed in dinner jackets when they stepped off the plane to be greeted by the governor of New York.

Later, at a dinner given in his honor, Prime Minister Luang Pilob Songgram said in quaint English:

"I tried to prepare a speech, but we got in the airplane and we had much bumping. It was hard to prepare a speech because of the bumping."

"We are known for years to the American people for twins. Whenever we get what you call 'Siamese twins' we send them to the United States. You know us because of twins."

"But now," continued the prime minister, "Thailand and the United States have another bond. We have become such friends that we are almost like twins ourselves."

Russian A-Energy

Russian diplomats have confided they will startle the world in a few months by disclosing just how much they know about the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Whether they can produce or not remains to be seen. But, without any fanfare, the Soviets have agreed to attend a big conference in Geneva in August which will be devoted to President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan.

And, in advance of this, the Soviets have pledged to make public more than 100 of their top-secret experiments in farming, medicine and industry.

Security-Go-Around

Hubert Humphrey, the pithy senator from Minnesota, has some penetrating things to say about the topsy-turvy handling of security rules under like State Department investigators, he says, deliver adverse security judgments 14.5 times more often than the Atomic Energy Commission, though the AEC is conceded to have one of the most effective systems.

Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration, says Humphrey, has a third tier employee than the U. S. Information Agency, yet Stassen fired 184 workers for security reasons in the same period that USIA fired only two. This proves that a man's chances of getting fired on the basis of a wild, unproved accusation depend more on the security officer where he works than on his actual loyalty, says Humphrey. ... Humphrey's solution? Setting up specific standards for judging security cases. Today's decisions depend on the fallible human judgment of each agency head. Under Truman, final decision went to the top loyalty board headed by a Republican, ex-Sen. Hiram Bingham of Connecticut.

Case For Small Cities

By Roger W. Babson

Edit. News Mon.—Case For Small
NEW YORK CITY—I am writing this from Room 15T on the 15th floor of the Waldorf Astoria overlooking New York City. I have supplemented my fears by talks with leading authorities. I am told that what I see from this window will someday be destroyed; but it is very hard for me to accept.

I Like All Cities
I like small cities. This is nothing against large cities. Both have their usefulness. In fact, large cities usually have some great national advantage, such as nearness to waterpower, like Buffalo or Minneapolis; or location at the junction of two rivers, like St. Louis, or at the outlet of a river, like New Orleans; or having a wonderful harbor, like New York. Nothing can prevent such fortunately located cities from always being great, even if vulnerable. But today I want to tell you why I like small cities.

The H-bomb and guided missiles will postpone World War III; but Scriptures teach that there will be at least one more war someday; and it will be the worst one of all. Just now, much is appearing in newspapers and magazines regarding the prospects for peace. Civil Defense has never taken hold; and it is very difficult to interest people in it at present. It seems to me that England, France, and Russia are lulling us to sleep with their Big Four conference.

What About Uranium?
Now spectators are crazy about uranium as an agent which will be switched to peace uses and thus protect the United States from the H-bomb. Without doubt uranium has many useful possibilities; but these discussions will soon be forgotten as the American people have very short memories. However, the world supply of uranium is very large and is well scattered throughout the leading nations and their possessions.

Certainly, most nations will be making H-bombs which can be used for "blackmailing" purposes and for attempting to get what they want without World War III. All the above will result in further inflation and continued high taxes. Someday one of these "blackmailing" threats may be "called" and some large cities will be bombed. Then several million innocent citizens in these cities could be killed.

Small Cities To Grow Rapidly
All the above could result in a continued movement of families and industries out of the large cities into the smaller communities. These small cities—when located not too near a big city—should have a great future. Many young people will prefer to live in one of these smaller communities, both from a safety standpoint and also to profit by their growth.

Decentralization of industries is also under way. Few manufacturing plants in the big cities are enlarging within those cities; they are building supplemental plants in smaller places. This factor of decentralization will greatly benefit small communities. The big cities are getting more vulnerable to war dangers, labor troubles, and high costs. Corporations are finding it easier to raise money for capital expenditures in the small cities, rather than the large cities. In the end, bankers and investors determine locations.

Real Estate Values
I forecast that the prices of the stocks of companies with all their assets in big, vulnerable cities may decline; while those with their assets in small, safe cities may not. My belief is that downtown real estate values in some of the large cities may be at their peak, but that in the smaller cities such real estate is still a purchase. In addition to the factors above, let me remind readers of the curse of the automobile and the downtown parking problem in large cities. Good roads, however, are helping the small cities, which should profit by President Eisenhower's proposal for expending $101 billion for good roads.

Workers in the smaller cities have a high character, are intelligent, and may give more thought to the ultimate consumer. Owing to the lower cost of living in the smaller cities, there are fewer labor troubles where management is reasonable. Labor has less turnover in these smaller cities. To avoid the handicaps mentioned above, the large cities should get solidly behind the new federal "urban redevelopment program."

You re Telling Me!

A Jap sculptor has offered President Eisenhower the figure of a dragon as a gift. Might come in handy for scaring off those White House lawn squirrels.

Americans this year will spend $10 billion on their summer vacations. This answers the question as to what's the most expensive two weeks in the year.

Green nail polish, we understand, has now pu in its appearance. The old-fashioned flowery-loving girl, says Grandpappy Jenkins, was highly content if she just had a green thumb.

The fountain pen, we read, is 70 years old this year. Still younger, we're sure, than some of those postoffice affairs.

I'M HUNGRY... LET'S SEE WHAT HAVE WE GOT TO EAT AROUND HERE?

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation and gratitude to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind and sympathetic to us during the time of bereavement following the death of our dear mother Mrs. Clara Jones.

We especially wish to thank Rev. Joseph W. Young and Rev. Paul Poland, who officiated, also those who sent flowers and donated the cars.

Plans For New Route 40 Work Move Forward

Driscoll Reports On SRC Decisions

The State Roads Commission expects to complete engineering work on contract plans for a new three-lane U.S. Route 40 on the east slope of Martin's Mountain by June 30, according to Norman M. Pritchett, SRC chief engineer.

Delegate Fred B. Driscoll yesterday released copies of correspondence between him and the SRC concerning progress on the proposed new road.

Driscoll, now a member of the Legislative Council, recalled that last October Pritchett told members of a special committee from the Legislative Council, the County Delegation to the General Assembly, members of the Route 40 Association and newspapermen that bids would be sought "early in 1955" for the new three-lane road over both Martin's and Polish Mountains.

Wants County's Share

The Allegany County delegate wrote Russell H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, April 28 asking him about progress on the Route 40 projects over the two mountains just east of Cumberland.

"In my opinion, the people of Allegany County have been very patient but feel that in proportion to the great amount of work being done in other sections of the state that they are not getting their share," Driscoll wrote to McCain.

"I know you are now budgeting your construction work for this year and would appreciate very much being advised regarding the aforementioned matters. I sincerely hope that work on these two projects can begin this summer," Driscoll concluded.

As a result of a conference with McCain last week, Driscoll received a brief note Saturday from McCain coupled with a copy of a lengthy letter which Pritchett had written to McCain May 21 concerning the 12-year road building program for Allegany County.

In that letter Pritchett wrote in part:

"It is expected that the engineering work on contract plans for the east slope of Martin's Mountain will be completed by June 30, 1955, and that plans for the west slope will be completed by August 30, 1955 . . .

Plans Being Pushed

"Plans for a contract on the west slope of Polish Mountain are being completed as rapidly as possible, and it is expected that the completion date will be October 15, 1955. For your information, at the end of the first year of the 12-year program, Allegany County has received 10 per cent of its four-year mileage, which is required by law. These projects account for 20.32 per cent of the funds allocated to the county in the first four years."

Observers believe that in view of the dates mentioned in Pritchett's letter the only project on which work may start this year is the east slope of Martin's Mountain. Bad weather is expected to prevent work this year on the other jobs.

Pritchett also discusses several other Allegany County projects in that letter in which he also states that the court trial on the Cumberland cross-town viaduct has kept the SRC in a position of uncertainty concerning the Allegany County program.

"I would like to point out that in addition to the certainty of the Martin's Mountain project in the near future, plans are practically complete on the Rawlings-McCoolle (Continued on Page 9, Col. 7)

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at Living Stone Church of the Brethren by the pastor, Rev. Arthur Scrogum. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Down, But Not Out

By REV. ARTHUR SCROGUM

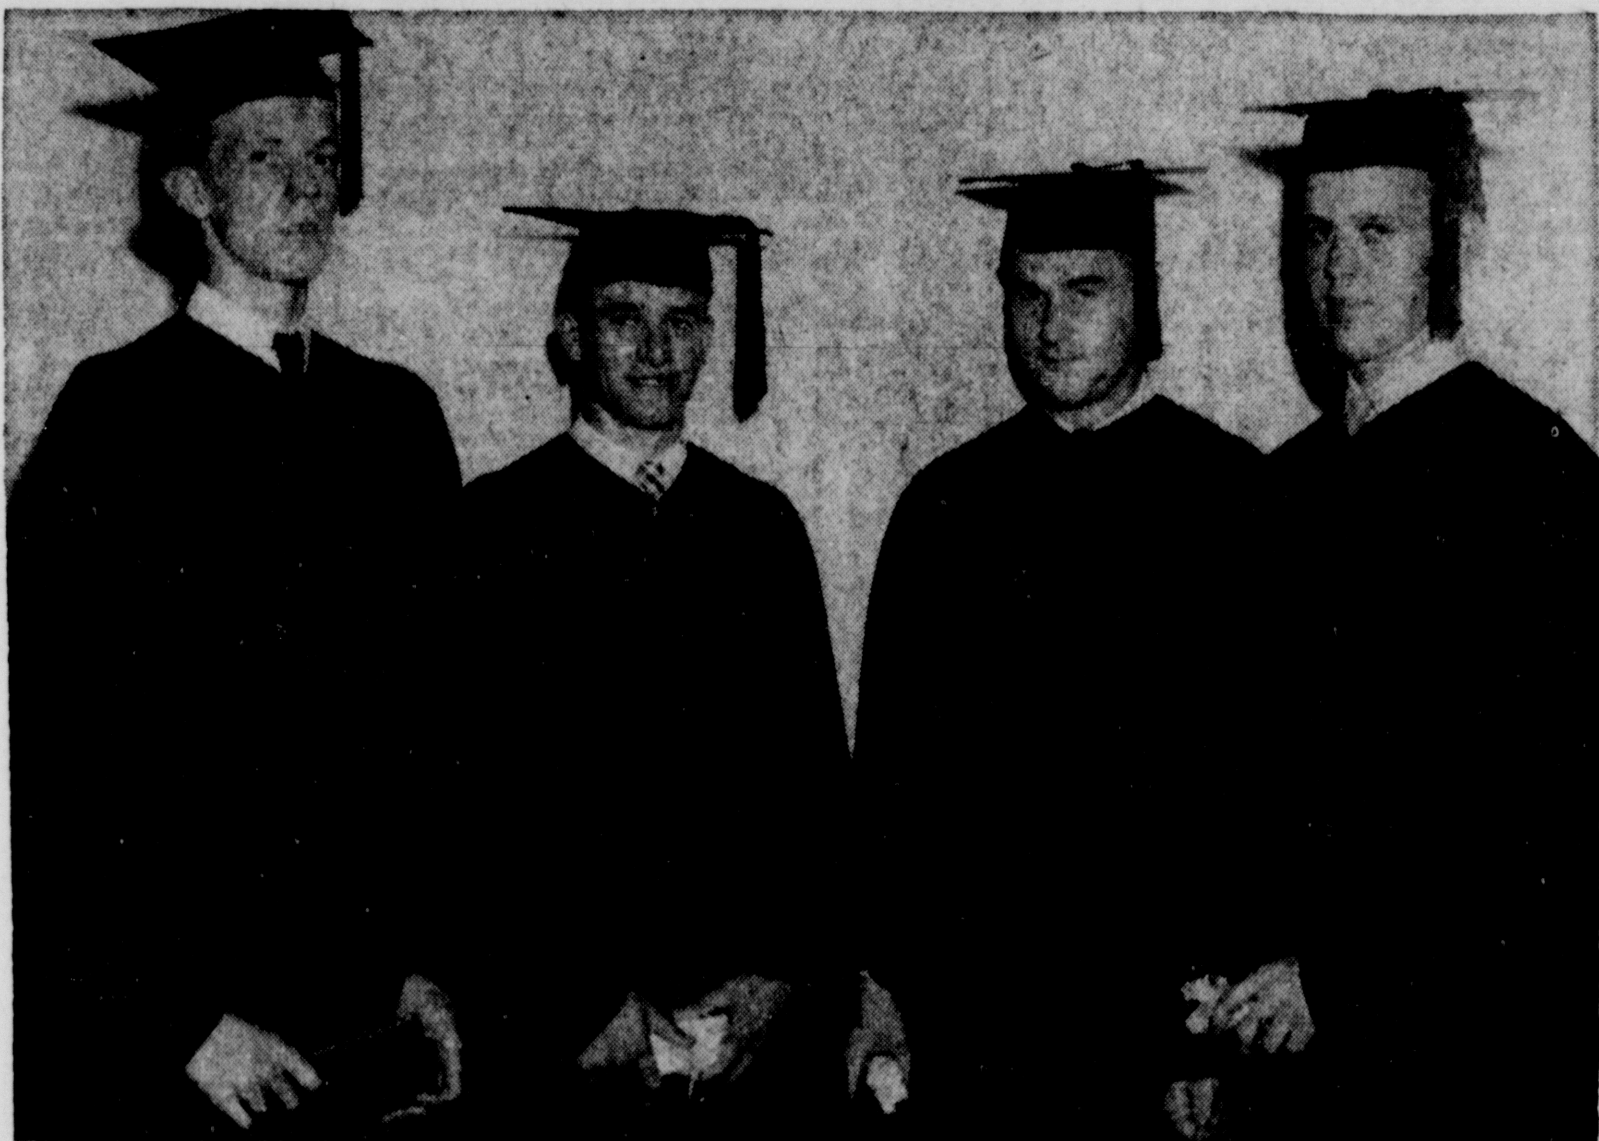

In a very short paragraph in Mark's Gospel there is recorded an incident which occurred in the life of the author when he was a youth. We are told, "And a young man followed him, with nothing but a linen cloth about his body; and he seized him, but he left the linen cloth and ran away naked."

Rev. Scrogum

Apparently John Mark had been aroused from sleep by the Judas-led mob which went to Gethsemane to arrest Jesus. With only his night robe about him he had gone to Gethsemane himself to see what was taking place, for he knew that Jesus had gone there. He had seen the arrest and had decided to go with the Master, wanting to help in any way that he could. But when there was danger that he, too, would be involved he had forsaken the Master and fled. At a moment when his Lord needed him he was a deserter.

About 15 years later we have another glimpse into the life of this young man. Paul and Barnabas had taken Mark with them and were on their first missionary journey. This time we are told by Luke in the Book of Acts, "Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia. And John left them and returned to Jerusalem."

Why did this younger man leave these faithful missionaries? There appears to be no good reason for his doing so. He knew that his help

Four Hurt In Series Of Mishaps

Four persons were hurt in a series of accidents which occurred in Cumberland and the area over the weekend.

Mrs. Leona Gentry Liller of Ward Avenue, Keyser, sustained a broken collarbone, bruises on her legs and injuries to her right knee when the automobile she was driving ran out of control on Armstrong Street Extended in Keyser Saturday night and sideswiped three parked cars.

The Keyser woman first was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital there but was transferred here to Memorial Hospital yesterday.

Her husband, Harry Liller, was treated at Potomac Valley Hospital. He was riding in the car which his wife was driving. Two women sitting in the parked cars also required hospital treatment. Police identified them as Mrs. Marjorie Mayne and Mrs. Norma Lewis. Their addresses were not reported. Memorial Hospital attaches said last night Mrs. Liller was in "good" condition.

Boy Hit By Car

An eight-year-old boy was in fair condition last night after being struck by a car on Williams Road at its intersection with Winfred Road Saturday evening.

The injured boy is David Patterson, son of Mrs. Florence Patterson, RD 2.

At Memorial Hospital after he underwent exploratory surgery, the child was said to have suffered internal injuries and lacerations. Officer Wilbur Shank of the City Police Department, who investigated, said the driver of the car that hit the child was Bernard Charles Sybold, 610 Montreal Avenue.

The officer said the child darted in front of the car and the driver could not avoid hitting him. Officer Shank said Sybold was driving at only a moderate speed, as his car traveled only nine feet from the point of impact.

3-Car Crash

A Frostburg couple was hurt in an unusual three-car wreck on Route 40 about 10 miles west of that community Saturday night.

Taken to Miners Hospital were Donald Lee Festerman and Marlene Hunter, both of Frostburg. Miss Hunter was discharged following treatment and Festerman was reported "resting comfortably" last night.

Trooper Blair Buckel, of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the eastbound car in which the couple was riding ran into the rear of another eastbound auto ahead of it driven by Frank Polvinale of Meyersdale.

Polvinale's car was driven off the road into a ditch, while the Frostburgers' auto careened across the highway, sideswiping the westbound vehicle operated by Dale Lichty of Frostburg.

The auto in which Festerman and Miss Hunter were riding then leaped an abutment and overturned in a deep ditch.

The injured couple were taken to the hospital by Miss Madah E. Topson, 344 Central Avenue, this city.

Potomac Valley Shriners Open New Club House

Renovate Old Home Near Burlington

An ancient stone house, a former pony express station that was also used for quartering slaves, has been renovated at a cost of about $110,000 for use by the Potomac Valley Shrine Club of Keyser.

Located on Route 50 about four miles west of Burlington, the old house was built in two distinct sections at different times, but dates of construction are not now known.

According to Harry O. Rogers, Keyser postmaster and finance chairman of the club, it is hoped that the dining hall will be ready to open on June 24, when a special program has been planned. The absence of a manager is the only factor in postponing the opening.

Carl Gustkey, grand master of Demolay and past potentate of Osiris Temple, Wheeling, will attend the opening ceremonies on June 24. Gustkey recently stepped out of the chair of grand master of Demolay for the world.

Gustkey, who is president of the Imperial Glass Company of Belmar, Ohio, which is situated across the Ohio River, presented $5,000 worth of glass and china, including breakage, for the next five years.

The structure was used before stage coaches, as a pony stop. Several of the rooms located on the upper floors still have the original numbers on their doors that were used when the building was used as a stop-over for travelers.

In the basement rooms rings which had been used to chain Negro slaves were still secured to the walls. In re-decorating the house these and many other historical fixtures were removed.

The original old stairway which leads to the present public dining room has been retained. The dining hall for the public will seat nearly 80 persons.

Other new features include a modern dance and banquet hall, which will accommodate approximately 350 people. In the completely modern kitchen, $15,000 was spent for new equipment including every type of kitchen machinery.

The first group to use the banquet hall was the alumni group of Romney High School last week. Two more dinner meetings are planned in the near future.

Four special club rooms for members of the Shrine Club and quarters for the manager, yet to be selected, were constructed. The manager's rooms include a bedroom, dining room, kitchen, and bath.

Dr. Thomas Bess is president of the Potomac Valley Shrine Club. Dana G. Lough is chairman of the building fund.
